The Chairman announced that, as only the necessary number to supply the vacant offices of President, Vice-President, Treasurer, and Auditor had been proposed, the formality of a ballot was not in those cases required. He accordingly declared the Candidates for those offices duly elected.

The Chairman then appointed Mr. E. C. Dunn and the Rev. P. Magnus to be the Scrutineers to superintend the ballot for Councillors; and he announced that the ballot would begin at once and continue for half an hour.

The Report of the Council, which had been previously circulated among the Members of the College, was taken as read.

The Statements of Receipts and Expenditure for the year ending August 31st, 1871, with other Financial Papers as audited, were presented.

On the motion of Colonel Bigge, seconded by E. C. Dunn, Esq.,

Resolved unanimously,—That the Report be received.

The Scutineers then handed in their Report to the Chairman, who announced that the following gentlemen had received a clear majority of votes:—

Resolved,—That Bye-Law Section XIII., Clause 16, be amended by the insertion of the words here printed in italics, and by the omission of the words printed in brackets :

"If it come to the knowledge of the Dean of any Faculty that a Student of his Faculty has been guilty, in the character of a Student, of misconduct beyond the precincts of the College, or has been brought before a Criminal Court, or before a Justice of the Peace, or a Police Magistrate, the Dean may, if he think fit, deal with the case [in the same manner] as, under any of the provisions of Clauses 12, 13, 14, and 15, he might have done in case a Report in writing had been made to him charging a Student by name with disorderly behaviour within the precincts of the College."

BELPER,
Chairman.

On the motion of Sir F. H. Goldsmid,

Resolved unanimously,—That the thanks of the Meeting be returned to Lord Belper for his kindness in presiding at this Meeting, and for his conduct in the Chair.

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL.

February 28, 1872.

I. SESSION 1870–71.

PUPILS AND FEES.

The entire number of Pupils during the Session was 1250, being an increase of 89 on that of the preceding Session. Of these, 646 were Students in the College, and 604 Pupils in the School. Of the Students, 289 belonged to the Faculty of Medicine, 100 being new Students: in the Faculties of Arts and Laws and of Science there were 357 Students, of whom 72 attended the Evening Classes; in this Faculty there were 214 new Students. The largest number of Boys in the School in any one Term was 511.

The Fees received (exclusive of those for Clinical Instruction) amounted to £19,116 19*s.* 6*d.*, being £1996 10*s.* more than in Session 1869–70. This sum consists of the following items :—Fees for attendance on the Classes of the Faculty of Medicine, £4937 12*s.* 6*d.*; Fees for attendance on Classes in the Faculties of Arts and Laws and of Science, £4196 6*s.* 6*d.*, of which £245 14*s.* was on account of the Evening Classes; School Fees, £9983 0*s.* 6*d.* The total payments to Professors, Teachers, and Masters amounted to £13,566 3*s.* 11*d.*, leaving £5600 15*s.* 7*d.* for the College portion, which was thus greater by £514 1*s.* 1*d.* than in the preceding Session. In addition to the above-stated amounts, the sum of £2023 7*s.* (being an increase of £70 10*s.* on the previous year) was received for Clinical Instruction in the Hospital, making a total of £6960 19*s.* 6*d.* paid by Students of the Faculty of Medicine in the Session. These Hospital Fees were surrendered by the Medical Officers for the benefit of the Charity, in accordance with their invariable practice.

SCHOOL.

The following extracts from the Report of the School Committee, presented to the Council on January 6th, 1872, will give the necessary information respecting the state of the School :—

"The Committee are happy to be able to report the continued and still increasing prosperity of the School. The average number of boys for the three Terms of the Session 1869–70, to which their last Report had reference, was 409, being a considerable increase on the average of the preceding Session: the average for the Session now under consideration, 1870–71, is 483.

"The number of boys for the first Term of the current Session is no less than 501, that of the corresponding term last Session having been 442.

"The returns for the last three years, according to the form usually adopted in the Reports of the School Committee, stand as follows :—

	1st Term.	2nd Term.	3rd Term.
1868–69.....	364	365	377
1869–70.....	390	417	419
1870–71.....	442	495	511

"In their Report of last year the Committee called attention to the improvement which had taken place in the discipline of the School, as shown by the steady diminution of entries in the Black Book. The Vice-Master has in his present Report furnished an analysis of the Black Book during the last five years, the period of his Vice-Mastership. From this analysis it appears that notwithstanding the increased number of pupils, the number of boys entered in the Black Book has diminished from 224, in the Session 1866–67, to 127 in the Session 1870–71, and the total number of entries in the Black Book in the same period has fallen from 1579 to 301.

"The testimony borne to the success of the teaching in the School by the list of prizemen and successful Students, both in the College and in other Institutions, is of a very satisfactory character. The particulars of the successes thus achieved appear in 'The List of External and School Honours' for the Session."

"In their Report of last year, the Committee, in referring to the increase of numbers which had taken place, attributed that increase in some measure to the enlarged space and improved accommodation which had been provided in the South Wing of the College. That accommodation, they said, was already beginning to be fully taxed, and they expressed their apprehension that if the numbers during the second and third Terms of the then Session should prove to be as much above those in the first Term as they had been found to be in previous Sessions, the total space, even as enlarged, would be barely sufficient for the wants of the School.

"The expected increase of numbers during the remaining two Terms of the Session was more than realized, as has been shown above; and it is already felt that the accommodation afforded by the existing building is no longer adequate to the wants of the School with its present numbers, and the possibility of further extension must depend upon the power of providing additional space.

"The Committee earnestly call the attention of the Council to the necessity of their taking this subject into their immediate consideration."

The Council have great pleasure in reporting that, through the remarkable generosity of two kind friends of the College, they are already possessed of a considerable sum of money applicable to the erection of new School Buildings. At their Session on July 1st they received notice that Mr. J. Pemberton Heywood and Mr. S. Sharpe intended to give £1000 each as contributions to that object; and those sums were soon afterwards paid to the College, and have since been invested. Again, at the Session on Jan. 6th, after the adoption of the School Committee's Report, Mr. Sharpe announced his wish to enable the Council to take immediate steps for providing the additional School accommodation required, by adding to his previous gift the truly noble donation of £4000; and a few days afterwards he transferred Government Stock of that value to the College. Thus upwards of £6000 is now at the disposal of the Council for School extension, and the Architect is already engaged in preparing the necessary plans.

The Council are convinced that all the members of the College will heartily join them in the expression of their grateful thanks to the two gentlemen, who on this occasion have so greatly enhanced the obligation under which they had previously placed the College to them, and whose desire to promote the interests of free and liberal education has been manifested so repeatedly and so generously.

It is intended that the new School Buildings shall consist of an addition to the portion of the South Wing which was erected a few years ago for the use of the School.

The former pupils of the School who in the College Examinations won Prizes and Certificates of Honour were the following:—Mr. B. J. Leverson obtained the Andrews Prize of £20 at the end of Session 1870–71; Mr. R. A. Germaine gained the Andrews Entrance Prize of £20 for Science at the beginning of the present Session. At the Class Examinations in the FACULTIES OF ARTS AND LAWS AND OF SCIENCE: Mr. F. W. Frankland, Third Certificate Senior Physics, Fourth Certificate Lower Senior Mathematics, First Prize Applied Mathematics, Second Prize Geology; Mr. H. E. Thomas, Second Certificate Analytical Chemistry; Mr. A. C. Tarbotton, Third Certificate Lower Senior Latin, Third Certificate Junior Greek, Fifth Certificate Junior English, Second Certificate Early English, Fifth Certificate Senior French, Third Certificate Comparative Grammar; Mr. R. H. Fison, Prize Junior Latin; Mr. E. M. Lynch, Prize Extra Greek; Mr. C. H. Brown, Second Certificate Extra Greek, First Prize Comparative Grammar; Mr. E. C. Foà, Second Prize Senior Greek, Third Certificate Junior English, Third Certificate Applied Mathematics, Fourth Certificate Comparative Grammar; Mr. E. H. Keed, Fourth Certificate Senior Greek, Fifth Certificate Junior English, Fifth Certificate Senior French, Third Certificate History, Fourth Certificate Comparative Grammar, Second Certificate Political Economy; Mr. B. J. Leverson, First Prize Junior Greek, First Prize Senior French, Fourth Certificate Senior German; Mr. A. J. H. Russell, Seventh Certificate Junior Greek, Eleventh Certificate Junior English, Seventh Certificate Junior Mathematics; Mr. T. G. Harrison, Ninth Certificate Senior English, Fifth Certificate Early English; Mr. F. R. Coles, Ninth Certificate Junior English, Fourth Certificate Early English; Mr. F. C. Turner, Second Certificate Junior English, Third Certificate Junior Mathematics; Mr. J. J. Stansfeld, Tenth Certificate Junior English; Mr. N. M. Futehally, Fourth Certificate Junior French; Mr. E. S. Symes, Prize Mineralogy; Mr. G. H. Voelcker, Third Certificate Zoology; Mr. H. S. Solly, Prize Junior Political Economy. FACULTY OF MEDICINE: Mr. H. Colgate, Fifth Certificate Physiology; Mr. B. M. S. Roth, Seventh Certificate Physiology; Mr. P. H. Carpenter, Eleventh Certificate Physiology, Fourth Certificate Practical Physiology and Histology; Mr. G. Garlick, Eighteenth Certificate Physiology, Sixth Certificate Anatomy; Mr. J. G. Langley, Second Silver Medal Chemistry; Mr. C. B. Hunter, Eighth Certificate Chemistry; Mr. H. G. Thomas, Eighth Certificate Chemistry; Mr. J. B. Kaufmann, Eleventh Certificate Chemistry.

EVENING CLASSES.

The total number of tickets issued during the Session was 189, a decrease of 56 from the number for Session 1869–70; the fees received amounted to £245 14*s.*, which was less by £34 11*s.* 6*d.* than the amount in the previous Session, and the number of Students fell from 93 to 72. The Classes for Classics and for Mathematics are now the best attended.

GENERAL FINANCES.

The surplus of receipts over expenditure for this Session is £683 11*s.*, notwithstanding the very large sum of £1795 10*s.* 2*d.* expended in providing new furniture and fittings, and in house and furniture repairs, being upwards of £500 more than the corresponding expenditure in 1869–70, itself almost as much in excess of the outlay on these items in the preceding Session. This great increase of expenditure was occasioned by the necessity of making a large number of book-cases for the Graves and the Morris libraries, of fitting up the new Laboratory of Practical Physiology, of providing a larger room for the College Medical Society, and by the extended requirements of the School owing to the large increase in the number of pupils. The Liabilities on the face of the account on August 31st, 1871, were less than at the close of the financial year in 1870 by £680 9*s.* 5*d.*, that is, by almost exactly the surplus of receipts over expenditure during the Session.

During the year, £1009 6*s.* 11*d.*, arising from the unexpended dividends of various Trust Funds, has been invested; and the College Liability under this head has been reduced from £1899 19*s.* 5*d.* to £631 0*s.* 6*d.*

II. THE CURRENT SESSION.

The entries of Students up to February 16th are as follows:—In the Faculty of Medicine, 309, of whom 97 are new Students; in the Faculties of Arts and Laws and of Science, 404 (including 87 in the Fine-Art School, and 56 attending the Evening Classes), of whom 292 are new Students: in the School, in Michaelmas Term, 501, of whom 105 were new pupils; in the present Term, 515, 73 being new pupils. Compared with the entries up to February 22nd last year, these returns show an increase of 49 in the Medical Classes, and of 96 in the Arts, Laws, and Science Classes; in the School an increase of 59 in the Michaelmas Term, and of 20 in the Current Term.

The increase in the number of new Medical Students this Session is 21, and in that of new Students in the other Faculties, of whom 87 are in the Fine-Art School, 120.

III. THE YEAR FROM FEBRUARY 1871 TO FEBRUARY 1872.

DEATH OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE.

On the 18th of June a long illness terminated in the death of Mr. Grote, by which event not only this College and the University of London, but the cause of education generally, sustained a loss which may be truly termed incalculable. Although the President's illness had for nearly six months prevented him from attending meetings at the College, his interest in its affairs continued unabated to the last; and a considerable number of Meetings of Committees had been, at his express request, held at his house within the three months preceding his death. Nothing could exceed the patient attention to details or the clearness of judgment which he displayed at these Meetings —qualities which had ever distinguished him, but which were the more remarkable in one who was suffering from a disease destined to be fatal.

Mr. Grote, by his Will dated June 29th, 1869, bequeathed to the College in reversion the sum of £6000, free of legacy duty, for the endowment of the Chair of Philosophy of Mind and Logic, subject to the two conditions stated in the Will, as follows:—

"I earnestly desire that the principle distinctly recognized when University College was founded as being of essential and paramount importance, that is to say, abstinence from all religious teaching, and neutrality between all varieties of opinion in matters of religion, shall at all times be faithfully and exactly carried out; and I consider it inconsistent with that principle that the Professorship of Philosophy of Mind and Logic should be held by a Minister of the Church of England, or of any other religious persuasion, who shall at any time have undertaken as his professional duty to inculcate the particular creed or doctrines of the Church or party to which he belongs. If therefore any such Minister should at any time or times be appointed by the Council to the Professorship of Philosophy of Mind and Logic, or if any Professor of Philosophy of Mind and Logic having been when appointed a Layman shall subsequently take Orders or become a Minister of any such creed or doctrines as aforesaid, I direct that no payment shall be made to him out of the present endowment, but that the annual income when received shall, so far as the Law will admit, be reinvested and added to the principal until the time when the said Professorship shall be occupied by a Layman."

The second condition above referred to is the following:—

"I desire that the Council shall at the end of every fourth year make inquiry into the management of the Class of Philosophy of Mind and Logic during the preceding four years. They shall investigate and ascertain the number and attendance of the Students in the Class, the success or failure of such pupils at the examinations of the University of London or those of the East-India Civil Service or any similar or other examinations, and generally all such matters and information as may enable them to ascertain and appreciate the diligence and scientific ability of the Professor and the efficiency of his teaching. If after such inquiry it shall appear to the Council that either in diligence, scientific ability, or efficiency of teaching, the Professor for the time being does not come up to the standard which, in the judgment of the Council, University College is entitled to require, I direct and authorize the Council to suspend the half-yearly payments to him out of the present endowment for as long a period as they shall think fit."

The Testator finally states that it is his "wish and intention that no part of the present endowment shall be applied to any other purpose than the remuneration of able, diligent, and meritorious Professors of Philosophy of Mind and Logic not being Clergymen or Ministers of any religious sect or denomination aforesaid."

At the Meeting of the Council on July 1st the following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Council desire to take the earliest opportunity of recording their deep sense of the irreparable loss which they have sustained by the death of their President, Mr. Grote. So long ago as in the year 1825, Mr. Grote took an active part amongst those friends of education by whose exertions University College was founded, and he was appointed one of the original Members of its Council. Ever since that time he has taken a warm interest in the welfare of the Institution. Only those who have acted with him can be fully aware of the readiness with which he on all occasions devoted his great abilities and his valuable time to the service of the College, or can have appreciated the sound judgment, the candid spirit, and the conscientious accuracy with which he performed his duties. His unvarying courtesy and kindness endeared him to his Colleagues, while his high reputation as a Scholar, a Philosopher, and an Historian shed a reflected lustre on the College over which he presided.

"That the Vice-President be requested to communicate the preceding Resolution to Mrs. Grote, with an expression of the Council's sincere sympathy with her in the calamity which she has sustained."

In conformity with the Bye-Laws an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Members of the College was held on Saturday, July 29th, for the purpose of filling the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Grote; when Lord Belper was proposed by the Council for election as President, and was unanimously elected.

DEATH OF A MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL.

Another serious loss has been suffered by the College in the sudden death of Mr. Field, who was drowned on the 30th of July, the day after the Meeting just mentioned, at which, as well as at a Meeting of the Council on the same day, he was present. Mr. Field had long been an active and energetic Member of the Council; his services had been of great value in connexion with the obtaining of the Act of Parliament for the re-constitution of the College, and more recently in the establishment of the Department of Fine Arts. Mr. Field was well known as an accomplished artist himself, and many years ago he had endeavoured to make the study of art a branch of the College curriculum. When Mr. Slade's bequest was announced, Mr. Field lost no time in proposing to the Council that steps should be taken to turn the opportunity thus presented to the best advantage; and during the negotiations which were carried on for more than two years between Mr. Slade's Executors and the Council, he was indefatigable. His practical knowledge of art and his intimate acquaintance with artists enabled him to render most valuable services to the College, and greatly aided in the establishment of the School of Fine Arts on a satisfactory basis.

His premature death, almost at the moment when his exertions had at length been crowned with success, and he was looking forward to the enjoyment of seeing their results, has deeply affected the Council, who at their first Meeting after the sad event recorded their sense of Mr. Field's services to the College, and of the misfortune which through his death had befallen it, especially in connexion with the Fine-Art School.

COLLEGE PRIZES AND DISTINCTIONS.

The Joseph Hume Scholarship in Political Economy was awarded to Mr. H. S. Solly, B.A. (s) *, of London. The Jews' Commemoration Scholarship was obtained by Mr. A. H. Spokes, of Reading. £30; to Mr. B. J. Leverson, of London (s) £20. Only one Andrews Entrance Prize of £20 was awarded at the beginning of the current Session, that for Science, which was gained by Mr. R. A. Germaine, of University College School. The Medical Entrance Exhibition of £30 was awarded to Mr. John E. Neale, of London; that of £20 to Mr. J. W. Hunt, of Rupert's Land; and that of £10 to Mr. T. G. Lawrence, of London.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

In their last Report the Council expressed their regret that they had not been able to fill the vacancy in the Chair of Applied Mathematics and Mechanics, occasioned by the resignation of Prof. Moore; but they undertook to spare no exertion that might be required to supply the vacancy in a satisfactory manner before the end of the Session.

In pursuance of this undertaking, the Council at their first meeting after the Annual General Meeting, appointed a Committee to consider what steps should be taken in reference to this Professorship, and with power to confer with the Senate thereon. The Committee held several meetings, and had conferences with Mr. Sylvester, Dr. Hirst, and various Members of the Senate. The conclusion at which the Committee arrived was that there was little probability of securing the services of a thoroughly competent Professor of Applied Mathematics and Mechanics unless the emoluments of the Chair could be increased considerably beyond the amount likely to be derived from fees. As the College had no means of endowing the Professorship, this conclusion would have been very discouraging, had not a Member of the Committee, Sir F. H. Goldsmid, offered to endow the Chair for five years to the extent of £200 per annum, by way of experiment. This liberal offer was reported to the Council on May 6th, when the best thanks of the Council were voted to Sir F. H. Goldsmid for his generosity and for the great service thus rendered to the College.

The vacancy was soon afterwards advertised, with an announcement of the endowment for five years, and the effect of this measure was seen in the candidature of a considerable number of distinguished men, one of whom, Mr. W. K. Clifford, M.A., Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, was appointed to the Professorship. His career at Cambridge had been a brilliant one, and on taking his degree in 1867 he was second Wrangler and second Smith's Prizeman. The Council moreover received evidence of the strongest kind from some of the most eminent mathematicians of Mr. Clifford's remarkable genius for and attainments in the highest branches of Pure and Applied Mathematics; so that in appointing him to the Professorship they entertained a firm conviction that he would maintain the reputation of the College, and promote the prosperity of its Faculty of Science.

Another Professorship of equal importance was vacant at the date of the Council's last Report; and inasmuch as it was to be filled for the first time, the selection of a Professor presented greater difficulties in some respects than attached to the Chair just mentioned, and required even greater care. The first duty that would devolve upon the Slade Professor of Fine Art was to devise an entirely new scheme of instruction in subjects some of which had never before been taught in the College, and to assist the Council generally with his advice in putting the department of Fine Arts in working order.

Considering the special character of this work, and the necessarily limited number of persons eligible for the Slade Professorship, the Council resolved that the appointment should, in the first instance, be for a period not longer than to the end of the second Session after the opening of the School, and that the ordinary method of inviting applications by public advertisement should not in this case be adopted. Private communications were accordingly opened by the Slade Committee with Mr. E. J. Poynter, A.R.A., with whom they had several long conferences, at which he fully explained his views on the organization of the Fine-Art School, and expressed his willingness to accept the Professorship on the terms proposed by the Council.

The Committee having satisfied themselves that Mr. Poynter possessed in a high degree all the qualifications required, recommended the Council to appoint him the first Slade Professor; and the Senate having concurred in that recommendation, the Council at their Session on May 13th adopted it, and Mr. Poynter at once entered upon the discharge of his duties.

It is most satisfactory to the Council to find that there is a general concurrence of opinion among persons competent to form one, that in selecting Mr. Poynter for this important post they have made choice of a gentleman whose eminent fitness for it is indisputable, and whose high position as an artist is a guarantee that the instruction given in the Fine-Art School will be sound and pure in character, adapted to elevate the art education of the country, and thus to promote the objects aimed at by Mr. Slade in making his liberal bequest.

The only other appointments that need be mentioned, are that of the Dewan Kazi Shahábudin to be Professor of Hindustani, Marathi, and Gujrathi; and those of Mr. B. Hill, Mr. C. Heath, and Mr. Marcus Beck to be Teachers of the Class of Practical Surgery, which recent changes in the requirements of the Medical Licensing Bodies have rendered it necessary to establish.

SCHOOL OF FINE ARTS.

The past year will be memorable in the history of the College for the establishment in it of means of instruction in subjects which had previously been scarcely recognized at all, and which it was doubtful indeed whether, under the Charter of 1836, the College had a legal right to include in its curriculum. Such doubts, however, were completely removed by the Act of 1869, which specified "The Fine Arts" as branches of education for which the College was authorized to provide the means.

The arrangements made with Mr. Slade's Executors were fully explained in the Council's last Report, in which it was stated that the buildings of the Fine-Art School were then in course of erection, and were expected to be ready for occupation at the commencement of the present Session.

This expectation was happily realized; and the Fine-Art School was opened on October the 4th with an inaugural Lecture by Professor Poynter in the large Life Studio. The Classes began on the following Monday, and were soon attended by considerable numbers of male and female Students. At the end of the first Term there were 49 Students altogether; and during the present Term 38 new Students have entered the Fine-Art School.

The Council are of opinion that the progress thus made is highly satisfactory, and, indeed, greater than could have been anticipated, considering the difficulties that necessarily attend all first attempts of such a kind as that under consideration, especially when, as in this case, the system of instruction differs in some important points from that which has the sanction of our established Schools of Art. Professor Poynter's pupils are taught from the first on the plan so successfully pursued on the Continent, the distinguishing characteristic of which is to treat the study of the living model as being of paramount importance, drawing from the antique (to which entire years are usually devoted in British Schools) being regarded as of secondary consequence, and resorted to chiefly as a means of improving the style of the Students. The Council are glad to report that Professor Poynter is well satisfied with the conduct and progress made by the Students under his charge; and that the accommodation provided for the Fine-Art Classes has, on the whole, been found to justify the expectations formed of it. There is, therefore, every reason to look forward with confidence to the attainment of a solid and permanent success by the Fine-Art Department of the College.

For this cheering prospect the College is greatly indebted to the further liberal assistance which it has recently received from Mr. Slade's executors. It was found that the cost of the building and of its fittings exceeded the amount received by the Council for those objects by about £1100, while considerable additional outlay was needed for casts, models, draperies, and other appliances for the use of the Students. The Council represented these facts to the Executors, who met the appeal to them in the most prompt and liberal way by presenting the College with £1100 to defray the extra expense of the building, and with £500 for the other requirements of the School. Their generosity is most gratifying to the Council, not only on account of its direct and very great benefit to the Fine-Art Department, but also because it shows that they approve what has hitherto been done by the Council in reference to the Fine-Art School, and believe that in so assisting the College they are fulfilling the trust reposed in them by Mr. Slade "for the advancement, encouragement, and improvement of the Fine Arts in this country."

In connexion with this subject the Council have to report that the Misses Hollins have presented to the College an admirable copy of Raphael's celebrated Vatican fresco known as l'Incendio di Borgo, made at Rome by their late brother, Mr. John Hollins, A.R.A. The picture is very large, and when properly repaired and framed will be a great ornament to the Life Studio in which it is intended to place it; and Professor Poynter is of opinion that it may be made useful to the Students as a faithful copy of one of the finest productions of the most illustrious of Italian Painters.

LADIES' CLASSES HELD AT THE COLLEGE.

The Council in their last Report intimated their opinion, founded on the experience of the previous year, that there would be no practical difficulty in continuing and extending the plan of allowing these Classes to meet at the College; and accordingly, at their Session on April the 1st, they received favourably an application from the Ladies' Educational Association for permission to hold here all the Classes for Ladies that might be established by it in the present Session, which application was supported by a resolution of the Senate. The matter was therefore referred to the Committee of Management with a view to the granting of the application on such terms and conditions as might be considered just and expedient.

The result of this reference was that the necessary arrangements were made for accommodating in the College all the Ladies' Classes; and these arrangements have been carried into effect during the current Session with great success. All the Classes are taught by College Professors, who are unanimous in expressing their satisfaction with the attention and diligence displayed by their pupils.

It may here be mentioned that under the following circumstances the Council have by a special resolution authorized the attendance of ladies in the ordinary College Class of Political Economy. At their Session on May 13th they received a letter from Professor Cairnes, in which he stated that several applications had been made to him by ladies for admission into his Class, and that he saw no objection to granting their applications. The Council referred the matter to the Senate for their opinion thereon; and at their Session on July 1st they adopted the recommendation made by the Senate that ladies should be permitted to attend Professor Cairnes's Class. Notice to that effect was given in the Prospectus for the current Session; and five or six ladies have availed themselves of the opportunity thus afforded to them. Professor Cairnes has reported that so far the experiment has been quite successful.

A further question has since arisen as to the admission of these ladies to compete not only for the Class Prizes, but also for the Hume and Ricardo Scholarships awarded for proficiency in that science. The Council, having satisfied themselves that the award of those Scholarships to ladies would not be inconsistent with the conditions under which they accepted the gifts by means of which the Scholarships were established, have resolved to admit ladies to the competition for them

THE YATES BEQUEST.

Mr. James Yates, F.R.S., an old member and friend of the College, who died in May last, has left to the College in reversion considerable sums of money, besides various specific legacies. One part of his bequest is for the endowment of the existing Chair of Geology and Mineralogy in the College; another is for the endowment of a new Chair of Archæology.

The Council regret to report that the validity of these bequests has been disputed by the legal representative of Mr. Yates, who has filed a Bill in Chancery with a view to obtaining the decision of the Court on the question thus raised. The Council are advised that there is no good ground for disputing the rights of the College under Mr. Yates's Will.

THE HOLLIER FUND.

By the death of Mrs. Hollier in July last, a sum of upwards of £4900, New 3 per cents., in which that lady had a life interest, became the property of the College under the Will of the late Mr. Richard Hollier. The terms in which the Testator expresses his wish as to the appropriation of the Fund are so brief and inexplicit that the Council have considered it expedient to appoint a Committee to consider the subject, and, after conference with the Senate, to propose a definite scheme for the most advantageous employment of the income of the Fund, due regard being had to the Testator's wishes, so far as they can be inferred from his Will. It may be necessary to obtain the sanction of the Charity Commissioners to any scheme that may be approved by the Council.

THE SHARPEY PHYSIOLOGICAL SCHOLARSHIP.

In their Report for 1870, the Council mentioned that measures had then been taken by many of Prof. Sharpey's former pupils to raise a fund for the purpose of establishing in the College, as a permanent Memorial of their eminent Teacher, a Physiological Scholarship, the holder of which it was intended should be a Student of the College, and have duties assigned to him in the Laboratory of Practical Physiology, under the supervision of the Professor.

The Council are happy to report that the measures above referred to resulted in the raising of a sum of £1600 (which will probably receive some additions) for the purpose of founding the Scholarship; and at their Session on June 3rd the Council appointed a Committee to confer with a Committee of the Subscribers to the Fund on a scheme for the regulation of the Scholarship. At their Session on July 1st, the Committee having presented a report recommending that the scheme, as amended, which had been approved by a General Meeting of the Subscribers, should be adopted, the Council resolved to accept the Scholarship Fund for the purposes and subject to the regulations set forth in the scheme. These regulations, which embody the objects above mentioned, were forthwith published; and at their Session on July 29th, the Council, on the recommendation of the Faculty of Medicine, appointed Mr. E. A. Schäfer to be the first Sharpey Scholar.

The thanks of the College are due to Profs. Marshall and Reynolds, who acted as Honorary Secretaries of the Committee of the Subscribers to the Fund, for their zealous and assiduous labours in that capacity during a period of more than two years; and also to Sir William Jenner, who accepted the office of Treasurer.

CLUFF MEMORIAL PRIZE.

Mr. J. Stanton Cluff was a distinguished Student of the College, first in the Faculty of Arts and Laws, and subsequently in that of Medicine. In 1866, at the first M.B. examination, he gained the Exhibitions and the Gold Medals in all the three branches of examination—a degree of success and of honour hitherto unique in the annals of the University. He became the Senior Demonstrator of Anatomy at the College, and secured for himself the esteem and respect of every one, whether Professor or Student, with whom he was brought into relation. The highest hopes were entertained of his future career, founded, not only upon what he had already achieved, but also upon his remarkable perseverance, sound judgment, and intellectual ability. These hopes were destined to be sadly disappointed by Mr. Cluff's death early in 1869, when he was drowned while bathing on the Irish coast.

Previously to his coming to London, Mr. Cluff had been a Student in Arts at Trinity College, Dublin, where he had obtained the highest classical distinction, and by his many good qualities had gained numerous friends.

After Mr. Cluff's untimely death a general feeling was expressed by his friends, both in this country and in Ireland, that some permanent record of his ability and worth should be established; and a subscription was accordingly opened for that purpose, Prof. Marshall acting as Honorary Secretary for England, and Dr. J. K. Ingram for Ireland.

At their Session on May 6th the Council received a communication from those gentlemen to the effect that the joint Committee had resolved to divide the amount subscribed equally between Trinity College, Dublin, and this College, for the purpose of founding in each Institution a prize in memory of Mr. Cluff, the Prize to be founded here being offered for proficiency in Anatomy, Physiology, and Chemistry.

This communication was referred to a Committee, which reported to the Council on June 3rd, when it was resolved to accept the trust on the conditions recommended by the Committee. The Regulations for the Cluff Prize have been published in the College Calendar for the current Session, and the first award of it will take place in 1873.

LIBRARIES.

Another considerable portion of the Morris Library, amounting to 2000 or 3000 volumes, was some months ago forwarded to the College by Mrs. Morris, who has retained in her own possession only a comparatively small number of the books in which she has a life interest. A catalogue of the whole collection has been completed; and additional cases having been recently made, the books will, it is hoped, soon be arranged and rendered available for use.

The arrangement of the Graves Library has also proceeded as rapidly as is consistent with due attention to classification, in superintending which Prof. Henrici has given much valuable assistance; and in the course of the present year it may be expected that the press-marking of this magnificent collection will be completed, so that the scientific treasures contained in it will become easily accessible.

The cataloguing of the Littler Library, the gift of which was reported last year, is nearly finished; and it has thus been ascertained that the extent of the Library is nearly double that at which it was at first estimated, there being at least 2000 volumes.

The MS. Catalogue of the Morrison Chinese Library having been completed, the Council have arranged with Professor Summers to have it printed, so that the contents of the Library may be made known more widely than would otherwise be possible. Considerable progress has been made with the binding of the books, to which reference was made in the last Report.

The principal Donors of books during the past year are the following:—The Lords Commissioners of H.M. Treasury, the Royal Society, the Royal Astronomical Society, the Royal Society of Literature, the Royal Asiatic Society, the Royal Institution of Great Britain, the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society, the Royal Institute of British Architects, the Society of Antiquaries, the Pathological Society, the Asiatic Society of Bengal, the Statistical Society, the Zoological Society, the Obstetrical Society, the Pharmaceutical Society, the Clinical Society, the Smithsonian Institution, the Royal College of Surgeons, Samuel Sharpe, Esq., J. F. Streatfeild, Esq., W.

D. Christie, Esq., C.B., Dr. T. A. Wise, Miss E. Manning, J. Williams, Esq., Q.C., James Yates, Esq., Mrs. Jones, Sir J. F. Davis, Bart., A. W. Franks, Esq., A. T. de Gamond, H. J. Roby, M.A., R. Russell Hyatt, Esq., B.A., Professors W. Wright, Bunnell Lewis, Maudsley, R. Ellis, Sharpey, Masson, Key, Sanderson, Newman, Summers, Wilson Fox, Reynolds, and Cliffe Leslie.

PEEL MEMORIAL FUND.

The income of this Fund in 1871 was expended in making presents of books &c. to three Institutions, viz. the Cambridge Free Library, the Nottingham Free Library, and the Wedgewood Institute, Burslem.

The Balance of the Dividends of the Fund now in hand is £64 17*s.* 8*d.*

It having been found that the Regulations which had governed the employment of the income of this Fund since 1854 had become in some respects ill adapted to present circumstances, the Council instructed the Peel Committee to consider what alterations it would be desirable to make in them; and at the Session on July 1st the changes recommended by the Committee were adopted.

The principal effect of the amendments thus made will be to give the Council greater latitude in the selection of the Institutions established for the benefit of persons of the working classes, to which grants should from time to time be made out of the Peel Memorial Fund.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF A BYE-LAW.

The nature of this proposal is stated in the notice convening the General Meeting on February 28th; and the Council recommend the adoption of the amendment on the ground that the maintenance of discipline over the Students will be facilitated by extending the jurisdiction of the Deans and of the Court of Discipline in the manner provided by the proposal now submitted to the Members of the College.

HOSPITAL.

The total receipts for the year ending October 31st, 1871, including Legacies and the balance from the previous year, amounted to £16,200 16*s.*; the gross expenditure was £14,983 8*s.* 1*d.*, consisting of the following principal items:—£3887 6*s.* 2*d.* on account of debts of former years, £7972 1*s.* 11*d.* for expenses of the current year, investments £1650, and erection of baths £1474.

The balance at the end of the financial year was £1217 7*s.* 11*d.*, and the debt (exclusive of the mortgage loan of £3000) amounted to £2645 2*s.* 7*d.*, being about £1230 less than on the 31st of October, 1870.

The amount subscribed at the Dinner on April 26th, 1871, when Professor Parkes, M.D., F.R.S., kindly presided, was £1090 16*s.* 6*d.*

H.R.H. Prince Arthur has graciously consented to preside at the Annual Festival to be held this year in aid of the funds of the Hospital. The precise date, in either April or May, has not yet been appointed by H.R.H., but will be announced as soon as possible.

The following additions have been made to the Hospital Staff during the year:—

Dr. T. F. Roberts, the Assistant Physician, has been appointed Assistant Teacher of Clinical Medicine, an office the duties of which were explained in the last Report.

Dr. John Williams, a former Student of the College, has recently been appointed Assistant Obstetric Physician.

The Medicinal Baths referred to in the last Report have been completed, and are now in full working order.

Other structural improvements have been already made, or are now in progress: and every opportunity of improving the sanitary condition of the Hospital, or of increasing the convenience of its internal arrangements, will be turned to account so far as the funds at their disposal will enable the Hospital Committee to do so.

About a year ago Sir F. H. Goldsmid generously offered to defray the expense (£200) of covering the walls of two of the principal wards with parian cement, which is far less absorbent and affords a much smoother surface than the ordinary plaster; and the Committee gratefully availed themselves of this means of increasing the wholesomeness of the wards, and of thus promoting the success of the medical treatment of the patients in them.

"It shall be lawful for every Governor (other than a Life Governor) to nominate by writing under his hand some person, subject to the approval of the Council, to replace him in his lifetime, or to succeed him after his death, as Governor. And the person so nominated, if he claims the benefit of such nomination within twelve months after the time at which it purports to take effect, shall, unless disapproved of by the Council (such disapproval to be signified in writing within six months after the claim is made), enjoy all the rights, powers, and privileges of a Governor of the College, and among those rights the power of transmitting the same to any person to be nominated by him in the manner and upon the conditions aforesaid."
